FIVE GENERALS KILLED IN BATTLE

San Domingo Trouble Seems to Be the Real Thing.

It is Reported That the United States is ill at ease over conditions there.

TREATY MAY COME UP SOON

New York, Jan. 5.—Dispatches from Puerto Plata show that five generals were killed in the recent fighting between the forces representing President Morales and Vice President Caceres, who has assumed the executive office.

The Morales generals killed were Rodriguez, Lico and Perez.

Generals Vanega and Calderon were killed on the other side.

The battle was a bloody one compared with other revolutionary affairs of this kind, and the casualties were a hundred and twenty killed and wounded.

Grave Concern At Washington.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Developments in Santo Domingo continue to give President Roosevelt and his supporters in the senate the gravest concern. The president, although ready to assume responsibility for his official acts, is inclined to let the senate bear part of the burden and has from the outset warned the senators that failure to ratify the Dominican treaty might result in disaster. He has given up hope that the treaty will be ratified, but is not prepared to insist that it be brought to a speedy close.

IS PROSTRATE

Over Her Ejectment by Secret Service Men.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Minor Morris is prostrated as a result of rough treatment she received at the White House yesterday afternoon while being ejected by the police and secret service men under orders of Assistant Secretary Barnes. She is confined to her room at the New Willard, and callers are not allowed to see her.

Mrs. Morris was carried screaming from the executive offices at the White House after her failure to see the president to urge him to reinstate her husband who had been removed from his position. She is a younger sister of Representative Hull of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on military affairs.

About 1900 Dr. Morris was appointed clerk in the office of the surgeon general and in April, 1902, was discharged. Reasons were not specifically stated in the official report of the case.

BLOCKADE RUNNER BLEW UP.

The Carlisle Reported to Be a Total Wreck—Several Lives Lost.

Cardiff, Wales, Jan. 5.—A message from Saigon, French Cochinchina, says that the steamer Carlisle blew up yesterday as a result of a fire on the vessel and several members of the crew are missing, and others are reported injured. The Carlisle was the most intrepid blockade runner of China during the Japanese-Russian war.

More Rural Carriers for Kentucky.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The following Kentucky rural carriers have been appointed: Cadiz, Route 1, William T. Tooke, carrier, Paul C. Tooke substitute; Cerulean, Route 2, R. Paul Turney, carrier, Charles B. Warren substitute; Chaton, Route 1, Chester B. Lyons, carrier, George Daniels substitute; Taylorsville, Route 2, Lee Hume, carrier, Cornelius Hume substitute.

Postoffice Receipts for Paducah May Reach $60,000 For the Year 1906

The report for the local postoffice for the past month, quarter and for the year 1905 has been completed, and shows a good increase in all three. The fiscal year does not end until June, but figures are kept for the calendar year, and they show that the total receipts of the Paducah postoffice for the year 1905 were $52,917.51. For the year previous the receipts were $47,499.67, an in-

JO BOYD DEAD.

Former Proprietor of Planters Hotel at Owensboro Dead.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 5.—Jos. Allen Boyd, well-to-do retired business man of Owensboro and former resident of Louisville, died of arterio sclerosis yesterday afternoon at the Beechhurst sanitarium. Mr. Boyd had been suffering from the malady for six years and because of ill health had retired from active business five years ago. He had been confined to his home for three years and was 54 years of age.

Mr. Boyd, with his parents, moved to Louisville twenty-nine years ago and had lived in Louisville twelve years.

For several years he had been a traveling man, employed by Bamberger, Bloom & Co., and later went to Owensboro and became identified with the firms of Brown, McCarroll & Co., J. W. McCulloch and M. V. Monarch, distillers. For several years he was proprietor of the Planters hotel at Owensboro.

NO EFFECT

Will the Action of Boards Have on Telephone Injunction.

The action of the city boards last night in rescinding the resolution to hereafter refuse the East Tennessee Telephone Co. any privileges or rights to use the city streets until it purchased a franchise, will have no effect on the trial of the injunction suit brought by Attorneys Wheeler Hughes & Berry in federal court at Louisville to test the legality of the company's business here, according to the latter.

"It is just like pouring water on a duck's back," Attorney Charles K. Wheeler stated this morning. "We intend to try the case and the action of the municipal boards last night in rescinding the resolution, will have no effect. The injunction suit has been brought and set for trial and tonight Attorney W. A. Berry and I will go up to represent the telephone company."

KILLED HER CHILD.

And Then This Woman Attempted Suicide.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 5.—After kissing her husband good-bye, Mrs. Sallie Blancagniel Pollard shot and fatally wounded her 3-year-old son and then attempted suicide by shooting herself in the head yesterday afternoon in the apartments of her brother, Dr. W. N. Blancagniel.

"I felt that I was losing my mind. I didn't wish to be a burden on anyone else and I could not bear the thought of leaving my child to others."

Mrs. Pollard gave this reason last night. The mother is not expected to live. The Blancagniel family, of which Mrs. Pollard is a member, is one of the most prominent in Louisville.

RAILROAD ASSESSMENT

The Amounts Were Received by Sheriff Ogilvie Today.

Sheriff John Ogilvie has received from the state board of valuation and assessment a list of the assessment of railroads running through this county. The assessment is as follows:

N. C. & St. L. road for 12 78-100 miles of track at $12,009 the mile, $1,688,860.

I. C. road: For union depot $47,800; for 14 66-100 miles of road on the East Cairo and Paducah division, $177,920; on the Louisville division, 18 99-100 miles, $574,600.

ST. JOHN BOYLE

Is Dangerously Ill and May Die During the Day.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 5.—Colonel St. John Boyle, the eminent railroad lawyer and capitalist, as well known in New York as in Louisville, was seized with convulsions at French Lick Springs, Ind., this morning and physicians say he may die during the day.

RIOTS REPORTED IN OTHER PLACES

There Has Been no Other Blood- shed, However.

The Czar Gives Money to Relieve Sufferers—The Kaiser Advises
Drastic Measures.

ANOTHER REPORT ABOUT WITTE

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—An outbreak occurred in the Orenburg district, where troops mutinied and refused to obey orders to attack the revolutionists. The latter are burning and pillaging property and mobs are besieging the local authorities, who have taken refuge in private houses.

A Campaign of Assassination.

Glasgow, Jan. 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Herald, wires that while revolutionists were crushed in their attempt to open revolt they now declare their intention to carry on the struggle by wholesale assassination. The enemies marked for death include the czar. It is reported that Premier Witte will resign in April.

Kaiser Advises Extreme Measures.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—Your correspondent is informed that the czar has asked Emperor William for advice as to how to deal with the uprising in the Baltic provinces. The Kaiser urged that the most extreme measures be taken in putting down the insurgents and pointed out that revolutionists are operating against the German residents.

The Emperor Gives $50,000.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—Emperor Nicholas has sent $50,000 for the relief of needy sufferers of revolts at Moscow.

Dispatches from Taganrog and Rosoff-On-Don report continued fighting in the revolutionary movement in which several persons have been killed or wounded.

At Rannon, Russian Poland, a bomb was thrown at the chief of police while he was walking in the street with his wife. The latter was killed and the chief terribly injured both of his legs being torn off by the explosion. Some bystanders also were injured.

21 DIE.

Miners in West Virginia Are Victims of Explosion.

Bluefields, W. Va., Jan. 5.—Twenty-one miners in the Coaldale company's shaft at Coaldale, W. Va., were probably instantly killed by an explosion there yesterday. There were three white men and 18 colored men entombed in the mine and no hope is held out that any escaped death. Most of the property used in the mine was blown to pieces by the explosion. One body has been recovered and that was so mutilated it is unrecognizable. All hope of recovering alive the entombed miners has been shattered by the pouring forth of gases from the different entries.

Bodies All Recovered.

Coaldale, W. Va., Jan. 5.—All the victims of yesterday's mine explosion have been recovered. Twenty-two mangled and burned corpses are lying side by side in the company's poor house. An inquest will be held this afternoon to decide the cause of the explosion, which is now unknown. The mine caved in but did not catch fire.

NOTHING LEARNED.

By Mrs. Johnson in Regard to Missing Husband.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, wife of P. H. Johnson who mysteriously disappeared on November 22, has returned to Mayfield after having visited many parts of Marshall, McCracken, Fulton and Graves counties, in search of some clue to her missing husband.

She says he has never been heard of since the next day after she saw him, after he left the house where he spent the night, about three miles north of Hickory Grove, where he was seen to come in the direction of Paducah.

She now believes that he has been murdered.

The government runs the pawnshops of Italy, and no interest is required on loans.

CUT OFF TOES.

Aged Man Contracts Blood Poison Through An Accident.

Hickman, Ky., Jan. 5.—Bob Faris, an aged citizen, is fatally ill of blood poison. Mr. Faris is one of the oldest men in this county. For some time his feet have been paralyzed, and a few weeks ago, while trimming his toe nails, not being able to see very well or feel any pain at all in his paralyzed limbs, he cut the ends of his toes off even with the nails. The injured toes became sore and blood poison set in and as he is so old he cannot live over 15 days at the longest and maybe not that long.

TRUST FIGHT

Resumed Today in New York For Benefit of Missouri.

New York, Jan. 5.—The fight to drive the Standard Oil Co. from Missouri was resumed here today. Officials of the trust living here were called before Commissioner Sanborn to give testimony. Edward T. Bedford, the Standard magnate, was the first witness. The Standard lawyers insisted that the testimony be taken in long hand according to the code. Bedford refused to answer all important questions by advice of his attorneys and declined to state whether or not answers would incriminate him.

AN EARTHQUAKE DESTROYS SEVERAL LIVES AND MANY HOUSES.

Rome, Jan. 5.—Ten houses are entirely ruined and many shattered and great loss of life resulted when an earthquake yesterday damaged the town of Genzano, Tosenzu province.

Fourteen bodies have been recovered, and rescue work continues. The town had eight thousand inhabitants.

HELPED LAWSON

When Schiff Predicted Worst Panic in Years.

New York, Jan. 5.—Jacob H. Schiff senior member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., sent a tremor through the speculative fabric of the stock market yesterday in a speech in which he predicted that unless something was done to improve the currency condition of the country, there would be a panic compared with which all panics which have gone before would seem as babies' play.

The sensational terms of Schiff's utterances were of such a character that it gave the market a violent shock, prices tumbling in response, Anaconda and Amalgamated Copper participating in the slump.

The Lawson crowd must have reaped a fortune.

FIRE IN ST. LOUIS.

The Public Library There Damaged to the Extent of $20,000.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—Fire of unknown origin damaged the books and furniture of the public library to the extent of $20,000 early this morning. The library occupies the eight and ninth floors of the Board of Education building. Two firemen were severely injured in a collision of engines responding to the alarm.

To Play in Mayfield.

Arrangements are under way by which the Philharmonic orchestra of this city, under the direction of Prof. Harry Gilbert, will play a concert in Mayfield at an early date. Prof. Gilbert is very popular in Mayfield and everything he is associated with in the musical line always is a success. It is thought that the arrangements will be complete in a few days and the date announced. The orchestra numbers over twenty.

A NEW RACE TRACK MAY BE BUILT HERE

Reported That Race Horse Men Have Their Eyes on Paducah.

One String of Horses Already Here, and Others May Come Later On.

NOTHING DEFINITE GIVEN OUT.

Charles Clark's livery stable, at 215 South Third street, is now the home of seven fine race horses, which are in charge of Mr. C. H. Harris, of Union City, Tenn.

The animals and their records are: Loleta 2:13 1/4; Harry A. 2:16 1/4; Robert Bivins, 2:19 1/4; Yancy Q., stallion, by Captain Cook, out of Ethel B, who had a record of 2:16 1/4 and the stallion's trial being 2:14. The other horses are green and have never been run over a track. The horses belong to Vernon Blow, of Louisville.

It is reported that a fine race track is to be built near Paducah and some of the most prominent men in Paducah will be interested. Also it is said that Mr. Vernon Blow is to remove his general offices back here from Louisville and will be a prominent stockholder in the new race track.

A deal is on for the land to be used for the track, but full particulars cannot yet be had. The track will be made one of the finest in the country, and it is said that the ultimate intention of the company is to have regular races here as in Memphis, New Orleans, Louisville and on other prominent tracks. Such a project would bring hundreds of sporting men here. Paducah has always been considered a fine point for race horses.

With the race track there will be a stock farm, where some of the best horses in the country will be raised and trained. It is understood a Uniontown, Ky., man is also interested in the proposed track.

MORE RECRUITS

Are Enlisted at the Local Station—Lieutenant Reed Expected.

First Lieut. Wm. L. Reed, Eleventh infantry, recruiting officer, visited the local recruiting station at the New Richmond House yesterday, and enlisted William W. Curl, of New Albany, Ind., for the infantry service.

Mr. Curl left last night for Jefferson Barracks, Mo., where he will receive his preliminary instructions in the duties of a soldier.

There have been numerous applications for enlistment at the local station since the first of the month, and Sergeant Noyes is jubilant over the outlook for a record-breaking month.

Even the colored applicants are showing up now and from all indications the enlistments during January will far exceed any record for this month in past years.

Lieut. Reed is expected to visit the station on Saturday next to enlist three applicants who applied for enlistment and were accepted by Sergeant Noyes after the lieutenant had returned to Evansville yesterday.

GOOD REBUKE

People Who Complained Against a Show Saw it and Liked it.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 5.—The "Black Crook, Jr.," theatrical company gave a performance here in spite of protests that had been made to Mayor Smith and Manager Johnson of the Stone City opera house, in which the ministers, mothers of Bedford and the W. C. T. U. members laid claim that the show was of an immoral character.

Mr. Johnson invited these people to attend the performance, which they did to a large number. They failed to see anything of an improper nature and enjoyed the show.

IMPORTANT PLACE

Will Jackson, Tenn., Become After New Birmingham Line is Built.

It is reported in railroad circles that when the Illinois Central completes its Birmingham, Ala., line it will make Jackson, Tenn., its headquarters for that line and for the Jackson district.

The company is already enlarging and improving its dispatchers' office at Jackson.

NOT DYING.

Ed. Finley Appears to Be Improving at Calvert.

Ed. Finley, a young man who lives at Calvert City, Ky., who was shot in the right hand Christmas day while out hunting, was reported today to be dying, but a direct message from there was to the effect that he was getting well. He formerly resided in Paducah.

The unfortunate young man was on a fence. He was hunting and while on the fence accidentally dropped his shotgun. He made a grab for it and the gun hit a log and exploded, sending the load into his hand. Doctor Jones was called and had to amputate the hand two inches above the wrist joint.

Today a report reached the city that blood poison had set in and that he would die. Later his father, Mr. George Finley, arrived in the city and stated that his son was improving and would recover.

Mr. Finley was formerly an attaché of the Kamleiter grocery at Third and Adams streets, and of the Orr grocery at Third and Clark streets. He has many acquaintances in Paducah.

LIVELY TIME.

Over the C. W. Watts Bonds At Denver, Col., But Administrator Wins.

Although little has been heard here about it, there has been a lively fight at Denver, Col., over the $2500 worth of government bonds Mr. C. W. Watts, of Smithland, Ky., had with him when he died at Denver recently.

The public administrator receives about 10 per cent of the value of an estate for administering it. He wants to administer Mr. Watts' estate and get $250 therefor, but the county judge has ordered the estate there, consisting of the bonds, turned over to Mr. David Adams, of Smithland, the lawful administrator. In the meantime the public administrator has appealed to a higher court.

Nothing has been heard lately from the man Dicke at Denver, who claimed he had a will written by Mr. Watts, leaving him all his property. It is believed that since he learned that Mr. Watts had influential people, he abandoned the game, whatever it was.

WILL ACCEPT.

But Hold Back $100 of Contractor's Money to Insure Repairs.

The board of public works after inspecting the Second street pavements yesterday, decided to accept them for the city provided $100 is held out of the money due Contractor Harry Baldwin to insure a few repairs now necessary, being made in the spring. The pavements were finished a year ago but never received.

The board of works held a called meeting yesterday afternoon and prepared its annual report which it turned over to the mayor last night.

Mayfield Politicians Fight.

Just before noon today, a personal difficulty came up between Mr. Apt Brand and Judge Ed Crossland in the rotunda of the court house over the party organization of the county. It seems there is talk of electing a new Democratic chairman in the county, and that Mr. Brand favored one person and Judge Crossland another, and in discussing the matter, hot words ensued, and a personal difficulty took place, in which Judge Crossland was struck twice by Mr. Brand, when friends interfered and prevented further trouble. A Messenger reporter failed to get the particulars from both parties, and until that is done it will not attempt to give them. It is thought the trouble will blow over and no further altercations will take place.—Mayfield Messenger.

Eloped to Wickliffe.

Mr. Fred M. Farnbaker, son of Mr. Maurice Farnbaker, of the Cairo Bulletin, and Miss Frances Shafter, daughter of Mr. J. Shafter, of Cairo, eloped to Wickliffe Wednesday and were married.

Both are well known young people of Cairo, the bride being 16 and groom 18. They eloped because the state laws of Illinois would not give them a license. They will reside in Cairo, where the groom is employed in a foundry.

Stranded Steamer Floated.

Norfolk, Jan. 5.—The Belgian steamship Autigon, stranded on the coast nearly a month ago, was floated this morning in good condition, and is coming toward Norfolk.

APOPLEXY OF MACK LOGUE'S

Well Known Traveler Dies On I. C. N.

Was in the Closet and Found When the Train Reached Paducah.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

Mack Logue, better known as Mack Bailey, a popular salesman and known all over the section, died suddenly from apoplexy and general paralysis in a room on the Illinois Central which arrived here this morning at 1:40 o'clock from Memphis.

He did not come out of the train when it reached Paducah, an attempt was made to force the door. His body had fallen in such a way that the door could not be opened, and the train had to be derailed. Officer Ed Alexander, and the raised to the window and taken out of the coach.

It is said he entered the room at Fulton, and remained until the train reached Paducah. He had evidently not been dead long, as his body was still warm when taken into the baggage room laid on the floor.

He was pronounced dead and remains were taken to the morgue for an examination. This morning by local doctors decided that death resulted from apoplexy.

Coroner Frank Baker held an inquest at 9 o'clock, and the jury was:

"We, the jury, after being sworn to ascertain the cause of death of Mack Logue, find that he died from apoplexy and paralysis."

"JOE HAMMOND"
"JOE WASHBURN"
"HENRY GO"
"F. P. MORRIS"
"W. C. LEE"
"CHARLES SH"

The deceased was born in this, Tenn., and was 38 years of age. He came here early in life, and had been here ever since. He was the name of his stepfather and that reason known to many of his friends.

He was at one time in the Reesor hat store here, and was a popular, well met fellow. Several years he was transferred to the Palmer hotel, but some years ago to become a salesman. Later he accepted a position with the E. Rehkopf Co. and in two or three years resigned again to go on the road.

Until recently he was a partner in the Kentucky Glass and ware company, and accepted the position of the year in Memphis Queensware company. He had been to Memphis to get the fatal summons came.

He leaves a wife, who is Lillie Kruger, and a daughter, Lillian Logue, besides a half sister, Mrs. L. P. Rasor, all of City Clerk Henry Bailey, and sister, Mrs. L. P. Rasor, all of City.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from the Sixth and Trimble streets at 6 o'clock, services by Rev. W. J. The burial will be at Oak City.

JESSE MOSS HILL

Had Several Fingers Saw But Not

Mr. Jesse Moss, who was in charge of the Merganser basket factory in Mayfield, injured this morning.

He was working at a right hand was drawn and several fingers were injured. The injury was dressed by Troutman.

Interstate Commerce

Louisville, Jan. 5.—The Interstate Commerce commission today in testimony in the Louisville case, involving freight rates east of the Mississippi to the Ohio to son, Ky.
